Position Description

Graduate Apprentice for the Business and Innovation Living-Learning Center

Division: Hankamer School of Business
Department: John F. Baugh Center for Entrepreneurship and Free Enterprise, Department of Entrepreneurship and Corporate Innovation
Responsible to: Program Director for Business & Innovation Living-Learning Center

Job Summary

The Graduate Apprentice (GA) for the Business & Innovation Living-Learning Center (B&I LLC) works directly with the Program Director to build community and support the mission of the B&I LLC. Our living-learning center is designed to immerse students in a transformational approach to faith-based business education through fostering community, cultivating a culture of innovation, encouraging personal and professional development, and connecting students with Business School faculty and entrepreneurial professionals.

The B&I LLC provides a prestigious opportunity for entrepreneurially minded students from all fields of study to live, learn, and work together. Students selected for the B&I LLC will live in an immersive, transformational residence hall that integrates business education with Baylor’s culture and values. Students are provided with the necessary tools and experiences to become leaders who creatively solve problems and seek to change the world for the better. Housed in Brooks Flats, the B&I LLC is the result of a close partnership between Baylor’s Department of Entrepreneurship & Corporate Innovation, the Hankamer School of Business, and Campus Living & Learning. The B&I LLC seeks to recruit students who are interested in entrepreneurship. About 80 percent of the students in the B&I LLC are Pre-Business with the other 20 percent being students from other majors across campus. You can learn more about the program on our website: http://www.baylor.edu/businessllc.

The B&I LLC Graduate Apprentice position is unique because it is a student affairs role located within an academic unit. This gives the GA experience across multiple areas — student leadership and development, event planning, academic affairs, residence life, advising, business education, and more. The expertise, insight, and knowledge gained in this role will help the GA successfully transition to the next step in their student affairs career. In this hands-on role, the GA will be an integral part of the B&I LLC community, working creatively to further the goals and mission of the program to promote student success.
